Georgia Education Workers' Compensation Trust

The Georgia Education Workers' Compensation Trust (GEWCT) is a group self-insurance program designed by School Superintendents in Georgia and has been providing workers' compensation for school systems in the state of Georgia since 1991. The GEWCT was established to provide a stable source of workers' compensation coverage to Georgia's school districts faculty and staff.

The Georgia Education Workers' Compensation Trust is a not-for-profit insurance program owned by the participating members which allows for more cost efficiencies. The GEWCT trustees and the program administrator, Georgia Administrative Services, Inc., understand the uniqueness of school districts and the daily challenges they face including budget and staffing constraints. The GEWCT has a proactive stance on safety training, aggressive claims management and medical cost containment that drive down the frequency of losses, mitigate claim costs and result in decreased experience modification factors and premiums.

The background of the entire page is a soft-focus photograph of a classroom. In the foreground, a young girl with dark hair is looking down at a book or paper. Behind her, another student is visible, and in the upper right, a teacher or adult is leaning over, possibly assisting a student. The overall tone is educational and professional.
